

Summer Reading List
English Department
2010-2011

English IV

A Doll's House by Henrik Ibsen

English IV: Advanced Placement English Literature and Composition

A Doll's House by Henrik Ibsen

Wide Sargasso Sea by Jean Rhys

King Lear by William Shakespeare

Mythology: Timeless Tales of Gods and Heroes by Edith Hamilton (Parts 1-4)

English III

1984 by George Orwell

English III: Advanced Placement (Language and Composition):

Fiction -

1984 by George Orwell

Non-Fiction – These “short” essays are to be read for discussion during the early part of the year. They don’t necessarily have to be read by the first day you return to school as a Junior – the second day should be fine.

“I Just Wanna Be Average” – Mike Rose

“Why Johnny Can’t Fail” – Jerry Jesness

“How Much Wallop Can a Single Word Pack?” –Geoffrey Nunberg

“Learning to Read and Write” – Frederick Douglass

“Learning to Read” – Malcolm X

*Most of these can be found either on the internet or in a book containing collections of essays (e.g. 100 Greatest Essays or 50 Greatest Essays)

English II

Ethan Frome by Edith Wharton

Honors English II

The Catcher in the Rye by J.D. Salinger

Ethan Frome by Edith Wharton

English I

Night by Elie Wiesel

Advanced English I

Night by Elie Wiesel

Have a great summer everyone! Read some books for fun too!