

THE NAZARETH

Volume LXXXIX, No. 6

May 24, 2017

Valedictorian & Salutatorian

Ellen Annas, '18

Rebecca Masgai is our valedictorian this year, and she is quite involved here at Nazareth. Becky participates in many clubs, including the Chemistry Club and French Club, as well as being active in Mathletes, Jazz Band, and Orchestra. She is very-well rounded, also playing CYO volleyball outside of Nazareth. When she isn't busy at school, Becky enjoys all of the activities that are essential to the life of a teenager: sleeping, eating, reading, and of course watching Netflix. Being the valedictorian does require many hours of effort, but she is still a normal teenager like the rest of us. Becky is also skilled at the movie category on Sporcle, and guessing is her strong suit. This is honestly the key on Sporcle about 50% of the time and it is a useful skill to have in life. Becky also has knowledge of many useless facts, which will be great conversation-starters in college and are generally a great tool to have. Some of Becky's favorite classes at Nazareth have been the most difficult ones, which makes sense for a valedictorian. A few of her favorite classes throughout the years include AP and Honors Chemistry, Honors and AP History, AP Government, and every Latin class except for AP. Some of her favorite teachers at Nazareth have been Mrs. Quinn, Mr. Clark, Ms. Wiz, Mr. Turner, and Sister Mary McDevitt, her lifesaver. Becky's favorite thing about Nazareth has to be hanging out with all of the great friends she's made, after all, everyone is practically family here. She wanted to give special shout outs to Emily Navarreto, Sofia Capece, and Katelynn O'Donnell. When asked if she had any advice to leave us with before she graduates, Becky emphasized the importance of trying to balance your schoolwork with a private life. After all, both of these things are important to your success in life. After graduation, Becky will be attending Temple University in the fall. She is undecided in what she will be studying, but we know that she will succeed in whatever she chooses to do. As for her plans after college, if she becomes an archaeologist, Becky would like to go to Egypt to "dig around and stuff". If she becomes a paleontologist, she would like to dig up dinosaurs. While she is doubtful that she will become either of these things, they are both solid job choices and I wish her the best of luck with both of these ventures. If neither of those careers work out for her, Becky remarked that traveling sounds nice. Becky, I hope that you follow your career dreams and I wish you success both in college and after. I also wish you good luck in college, although you won't be needing it. Nazareth will miss you, keep being you and accomplishing amazing things!

Sofia Capece is our salutatorian this year, and I had the pleasure of talking to her in an attempt to learn how she does it all. Contrary to popular belief, her name is spelled with an "f", putting her among the likes of Sofia Vergara and Sofia Coppola. You have probably seen Sofia running around the school for cross country and track, or maybe you've heard her mad guitar skills as the jazz band practices and performs. She also shares her talents at Nazareth by editing for Highlights, and exhibiting her authority as President of the French Club. Most of her time is spent at work and school, so as you can imagine she doesn't have much time to herself. Fitting for the salutatorian, Sofia's senior slide didn't begin until after her last AP test. When she does have a few free seconds, she likes to rest her weary eyes, as you could imagine. If she has more time at her disposal, Sofia enjoys watching rom-coms on Netflix with her sister, because who doesn't enjoy a good Netflix marathon? She also loves listening to music as many other teenagers do, and plans on attending as many concerts as she can this summer! Something that you may not know about Sofia is that she has the ability to knit a Pinterest 30-minute scarf in approximately three hours, an impressive feat. She also likes to practice her Russian accent in the privacy of her own home, and impersonate Louis Armstrong (not at the same time, I hope). While she is at Nazareth, Sofia enjoys French class, especially when watching movies such as "Les Choristes," especially when she can understand a little bit of what the characters are saying. She also wanted to give a special shout out to her English class, and commented that she hopes the group chat will stay alive next year. Some of her favorite things at Nazareth include Operation Santa Claus, days where Brock hands out free things, and Sister Mary McDevitt. Sofia also enjoys playing the SET Game in AP Calculus, and trips to Yale with the indoor track team. Two of favorite teachers at Nazareth are Mr. Clark and Madame Durkin, with some of her favorite memories being made in their classes. When asked if she had any advice to leave us with Sofia recommended to make sleep a priority. It's easy to let schoolwork take over your life, but try not to let it happen. With this advice in mind, Sofia still values school and will be attending Schreyer Honors College at Pennsylvania State University this fall, with an intended major in biomedical engineering. As for future plans, Sofia likes to take things day by day since life doesn't usually go according to plan. However, she would definitely like to travel on the Trans-Siberian Railway at some point, get her master's degree, and get a good job that will keep her out of her parents' basement. Good luck in college Sofia, Nazareth will miss you! We wish you success as you continue to do great things!

A Final Goodbye – Leadership Team 2016-17

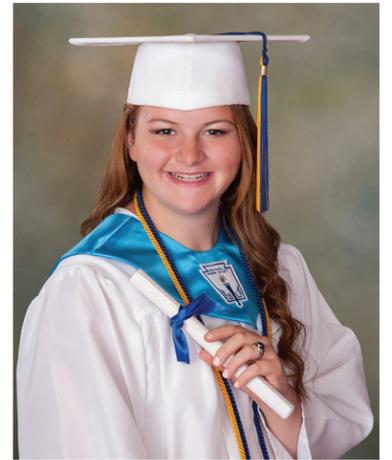

Sylvanne Braganza, '18

We have had a wonderful 2016-2017 school year, and none of the extra activities that made this school year so fun would have been possible without the four ladies who lead our school (and who you see at almost every Nazareth event – true dedication). Yes, I am talking about our Leadership team, comprised of Madison Joynes, Breanna Puleo, Marne Brown, and Veronica Bloom. Unfortunately, the year is almost over, and it is almost time for our L team to pass the torch on to our newly elected Leadership. However, before they go, I have had the opportunity to interview each of them for a final goodbye.

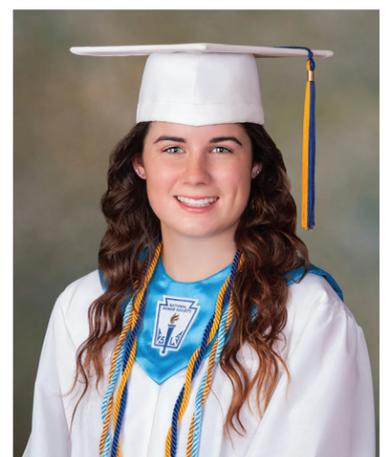

First up is our very own “Madame Prez”, our lovely school president, the one and only, Madison Joynes. West Chester University will be lucky to have her as she studies Molecular Biology. Her favorite year at Nazareth is tied between sophomore and senior year. Sophomore year (2014-2015), Madison became a true rockstar on the guitar, joining the ranks of legends...okay, not really – but she did (kind of) learn how to play Hot Cross Buns on the guitar during Music Appreciation. Senior year rocked because it is senior year: the beginning of the end. Madison’s favorite Nazareth memory is a recent one: the talent show this year. I’m sure many of you remember that final, ridiculous act that had us all in hysterics – a new, and interesting, dance form. “We had a bunch of technical difficulties, but we had the best time. There is nothing more gratifying than laying behind a tarp dressed in a swim cap and goggles in front of the whole school because your music decided to stop playing for the hundredth time. Life is all about the laughs.” Indeed, it is. I was laughing at the mismatched socks waving through the air. It was true art to behold. Madison’s favorite Nazareth Tradition is no longer a tradition – Baked Potato Day. Gone, but not forgotten (“RIP”), perhaps we can bring it back next year? With less than a month until she’s gone, Madison has thought about what she’ll be leaving behind. She will definitely miss all her friends – “especially Breanna Puleo [I’m getting to her, don’t worry], who saves me from doing the morning announcements because I don’t like my telephone voice. Also, she made me a poster for my senior game! [very nice!]” Competing for the top spot on her bucket list is perfecting the Iron Lotus (“thanks Will Ferrell”) and getting a five on the AP Chemistry exam (me too, Mad, me too...). She isn’t quite sure which would be harder to do! Ten years from now, Madison sees herself...being twenty-eight. She doesn’t know where she’ll be for sure (“I’m not a psychic!”), but she hopes it’ll be something awesome, preferably vacationing in the Bahamas. Favorite Quote: “A day without a smile is a day wasted.” ~Wiz Khalifa.

Next in line is our favorite, amazing, and outgoing vice president (and Madison’s partner in crime), Breanna Puleo. This time, next year, Breanna will be in the middle of her studies to be a Physician’s Assistant at the University of Pittsburgh. Her favorite year at Nazareth is senior year because she got to lead the school with her “fellow cheetah sisters.” It also was her final year to experience everything with some of her favorite people. Breanna’s favorite memory at Nazareth is “the one and only” synchronized swimming performance “put on by yours truly and my fellow shoe house members.” (#mango) Her favorite Nazareth tradition is the talent show (where the previously mentioned “performance” was put on). According to Breanna, the talent show is the best opportunity to force the teachers into singing and dancing in front of the entire school for our enjoyment and entertainment (thank you to the teachers willing to make this possible). There’s a lot Breanna will miss about Nazareth next year “like delivering the newspapers to Sister Constance every morning, telling Miss Wiz how much she’ll miss me next year, and when Madison Joynes [see above paragraph] facetimes me at 11pm to complain about something new and then talks about the most random stuff once she’s done complaining.” The number one thing on her bucket list is running into Sister Callista on the second floor (“ghost hunting”). Ten years from now, Breanna sees herself almost turning twenty-eight and, according to a buzzfeed quiz she took, celebrating her fourth wedding anniversary! Favorite Quote: “less upsetti, more spaghetti.”

Now, we have our energetic, easygoing secretary, Marne Brown. Next year, Marne will be studying communication and rhetoric studies at Syracuse University. Her favorite year at Nazareth is definitely junior year, but not for the obvious reasons (i.e. getting your rings and starting preparations for college). Junior year was when Marne finally found her solid group of friends. “Everything sort of nicely fell into place.” Her favorite Nazareth memory would either be Kairos (same, honestly, shout out to KLIII) or Snowball 2017. “Kairos was a tear-filled utopia of happiness for me and I wouldn’t trade that experience or group 2 for anything.” She loved snowball because she danced “like a crazy person” with her best friends. Marne’s favorite Nazareth tradition is Freshmen Day – standing on the sidelines watching the aggressive fight to easily become “the coolest girl in your grade.” As for what she’ll miss about Nazareth... “the real question should be what I WON’T miss about Nazareth.” Nazareth is Marne’s second home and the people she’s met here throughout her four years are her family. “From screaming at mechanical pigs to my dear old dad, Mr. Clark, my life will never be the same without Nazareth and the people there who shaped me into the person I am today.” Number one on her bucket list is backpacking through Europe and “finding herself.” (She’s really going to meet a European boy;) In ten years, we’ll see Marne at the top of the Billboard charts, working for a big name recording studio or maybe managing the next Beyoncé. Or at least, those are her dreams. Ten years from now, she hopes to “be the same singing, dancing, Rita’s loving person I am today with a husband who admires my strange ways.” Favorite Quote: “Now I do what I want.” ~Lil Uzi Vert

Last, but far from least, we have our reliable, sweet treasurer, Veronica Bloom. She’ll be going to Drexel University with a Health Sciences major next year. Veronica’s favorite year is definitely senior year, a year well spent with all her friends. Her favorite memory is Naz Black Out 2k13 (her freshman year). Her favorite Nazareth tradition is Naz-A-Thon, which started her sophomore year and is now in its fourth year. Veronica will miss seeing all her friends every day, as they now go off to different colleges. At the top of her bucket list is sky diving. In ten years, Veronica hopes to be working as a physician’s assistant at the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP). Favorite Quote: “Whenever I am about to do something, I think ‘would an idiot do that?’ and if they would, I do not do that thing.” ~Dwight Schrute.

Goodbye to Our Senior Editor

Ellen Annas, '18

To my fellow editor, Liz,

Writing this goodbye to you is very bittersweet. Of course I am sad that you are graduating (although I will never admit it to your face), but I am also proud of all that we have accomplished this year. We began to turn The Nazareth into a paper where our fellow students can talk about interests and current events, as well as the happenings at school. We also attempted (and struggled) to learn the basics of InDesign, which has proven to be a difficult feat. It is officially the program that has given us more issues than physical issues of the paper. Attempting to format this paper may have been a ride on the struggle bus, but I am so glad that I had you right along with me. Working on this paper is honestly one of the major reasons we became better friends, and I am so grateful to have had this experience. I do not think that I would have been able to handle the task of editing as a junior with any other co-editor. Thank you for keeping me sane, inspiring me to watch The West Wing, and for not judging me too hard when I eat about half a bag of goldfish for lunch when we edit. I will miss noticing all of the random statues in the Lit Office that really have no explanation as to how they got there. The memories will be missed next year, but I wish you the best of luck in college. I cannot wait to hear all about your adventures in D.C. and to watch you become a famous politician and/or writer. I know that you won't let D.C. corrupt you, and please make sure to remember us little people and the hours spent on the newspaper in our small Lit Office when you're out making it big in the real world. Make sure to say hi to Katie Schluth for me, and send pictures when you two take over the White House, Washington D.C., and then the world of course. In all seriousness Liz, I am going to miss you next year even though I say that I won't. I am so happy that I was chosen to edit this newspaper with you, because we became better friends through all the technical struggles that it brought us. You are such a kind, genuine, and funny person, and you are so passionate about The Nazareth and constantly improving it. I know that you will bring this passion and determination with you and apply it to whatever you choose to do in life. These are great qualities to have, and they will bring you a great deal of success in the real world. Thank you for being a great co-editor and friend, I wish you luck out there in the real world, although I know that you won't be needing it. Enjoy college, and remember to never use Survey Monkey.

Lots of love,
Ellen (LN)

Senior Editor Goodbye

Dear readers of The Nazareth,

The day I joined The Nazareth freshman year, I was determined to become one of its editors as a senior. I idolized the older girls who kept this paper going and longed for the chance to take over the reins. Luckily, I have been given that chance. Acting as the senior editor of The Nazareth this year has been one of the greatest gifts Nazareth has ever given me. I am beyond thankful to all of our paper's writers for filling each edition's pages with new insights into student life here at Nazareth. Thank you so much for your ideas, time and dedication. This publication would quite literally be nothing without you. That being said, The Nazareth would really never be complete without the constant support and aid from our moderator Mr. MacGregor and without my trusty and resourceful co-editor Ellen Annas. To Mr. MacGregor, thank you so much for all of the advice, computer shortcuts and laughs. Ellen and I would be completely and totally lost without your guidance and incredible InDesign savvy. Know that we are so thankful for you always. To Ellen, thank you for keeping things hilarious, for being my partner-in-crime and for listening to my many, many rants. There is nobody else I would have rather had by my side and no-one I would trust more to continue editing The Nazareth. Also best of luck to Sylvanne, who I'm sure will be a fantastic co-editor with Ellen this upcoming year!

Editing The Nazareth has been a dream come true and I could not be more gracious for the opportunity to be at its helm. As I sit in cozily in the Lit Office's pink armchair and write this, I realize more and more how truly fond I am of this constantly struggling but always persevering paper. Thank you all for reading and for writing. My final thought for The Nazareth is this: always maintain pride and joy in your journalistic efforts and never let your voice be silenced.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Irons

Senior Superlatives

- Best Actress - Karley Konyves
Most Social - Madison Joynes
Best Artist - Samantha Koenig
Coolest - Molly Fluehr
Most Studious - Lin Jia Chen
Most Honest - Shannen Conner
Most Optimistic - Amber Theurer
Funniest - Nicole Diviny
Most Adventurous - Samantha Gilbert
Most Photogenic - Maura Lifsted
Most Outgoing - Jessica Lachowicz
Most Trustworthy - Samantha Caimi
Best Laugh - Marabella DeBonaventura
Most Likely to Become President - Elizabeth Irons
Most Likely to Go With the Flow - Lauren Stride
Most Spirited - Marne Brown
Biggest Country Music Fan - Katelynn Emore
Most Likely to Marry Her High School Sweetheart - Angela Sylvester
Most Likely to Write a Best-Selling Novel - Bridget Heffernan
Best Eyes - Emily Beck
Most Likely to Win a Nobel Prize - Sofia Capece
Most Likely to Go to the Olympics - Taylor Neals
Most Fun - Nicole Deegan
Most Well-Rounded - Veronica Bloom
Preppiest - Faith Carbino
Most Sincere - Jessica Nieto
Most Likely to Make a Scientific Breakthrough - Melissa Aykit
Most Likely to Start a Band - Mackenzie Flood
Biggest Perfectionist - Nicole Butch
Most Laid-Back - Meghan Rodgers
Most Giving - Maria Diaz
Most Likely to Make You Smile - Jessica Loughery
Most Likely to Study for 10 Minutes and Still Get an A - Alexandra Yiambilis
Most Likely to Cheer You Up on a Bad Day - Megan Nescio
Most Dedicated - Sarah Schuck
Most Talkative - Taylor Jennings
Most Caring - Elise McGrath
Most Likely to Star in Their Own Reality Show - Gabrielle Newman
Most Likely to Try Anything Once - Cassidy Perry
Most Likely to Finish a Test Before Anyone Else - Paige Robinson
Most Personable - Julianna Gerold
Best Baker - Grace Gervino
Best Hair - Nina Adams
Most Understanding - Emily Cox
Most Mischievous - Victoria Thompson
Most Hardworking - Rebecca Masgai
Most Motivational Speaker/Debater - Stephanie Osman
Best Listener - Sabrina Vietz
Most Determined - Miranda Candidi
Most Likely to Have Your Back - Breanna Puleo
Most Likely to Become a Model - Delancey Showers
Best Nails - Jenny Trinh
Friendliest - Emily Hatala
Most Angelic Voice - Madison McGrogan
Most Thoughtful - Shannon McCombs
Most Loyal Friend - Sabrina DeOliveira
Most Likely to Speak Her Mind - Kailey Ferguson
Most Family Oriented - Megan Mackiewicz
Most Mysterious - Samantha Churchill
Fiercest - Emily Navarreto
Quirkiest - Georgia O'Connor
Most Likely to Be Friends With Everyone in College - Konstandina Dimitriadis
Best Athlete - Emily Lund
Most Likely to Start a Movement - Skyla vanTrikt
Most Sarcastic - Alexis Godwin
Most Confident - Sydney Corcoran
Most Likely to Start a Business - Jennifer Davis
Most Injury Prone - Megan Frain
Most Likely to Catch a Ride on the Elevator - Lindsay Jones
Best Smile - Emily Yost
Biggest Kid at Heart - Angela Navarreto
Sassiest - Alyssa Salvitty
Kindest - Ember DeBonaventura
Most Likely to Run into a Celebrity - Lindsay Levan
Best Finsta - Bethany Liberatore
Best Sense of Humor - Cameron Kubach
Best Dressed - Caitlin Klarich
Most Likely to Be on a Talkshow - Katelynn O'Donnell
Best Chef - Ava Delong
Most Dependable - Gabrielle McBride
Most Likely to Get D&D Coffee - Rebecca Rhoades
Senioritis - Abigail Jastrzembski
Most Random - Jessica Puodziunas
Most Creative - Samantha Koenig
Most Likely to Become a Teacher - Claire Weikel
Most Likely to Be Absent - Anna Quian
Wittiest - Elizabeth Carp Most Adorable - Jessica Case
Most Adorable - Jessica Case
Most Likely to be Goofing Off in French Class - Paige Wyszynski
Best At Throwing Implements Great Distances, especially shot put - Emily Gindele
Most Likely to Go Viral - Kristen Lichtner
Most Likely to Become a Famous Pro-Golfer - Melissa Landis
Most Likely to Be Talking in Class - Briana Wiley
Best Best Friends - Victoria Thompson and Alexandra Yiambilis
Best Squad - Molly Fluehr, Marne Brown, Delancey Showers

College Listings

Arcadia University

Karley Konyves
Sara Shuck

Belmont University

Victoria Thompson

Boston College

Julianna Gerold

Bucks County Community College

Shannen Conner

Cabrini University

Ava DeLong

Drexel University

Veronica Bloom
Konstandina Dimitriadis
Megan Mackiewicz
Angela Navarreto
Emily Navarreto
Sabrina Veitz

Duquesne University

Faith Carbino

Elizabethtown College

Mackenzie Flood

Fordham University

Molly Fluehr

Gettysburg College

Stephanie Osman
Alexandra Yiambilis

High Point University

Sydney Corcoran

Holy Family University

Sabrina DeOliveira
Maria Diaz
Gabrielle McBride
Shannon McCombs
Jessica Nieto

Immaculata University

Emily Cox
Madison McGrogan

Kutztown University

Cameron Kubach

La Salle University

Samantha Caimi
Ember DeBonaventura
Marabella DeBonaventura
Emily Gindele
Bethany Liberatore (Thomas Jefferson Nursing School)
Cassidy Perry

Brianna Wiley

Paige Wyszynski

Lehigh University

Georgia O'Connor

Make-Up Designory & Empire Beauty School

Gabrielle Newman

Millersville University

Taylor Jennings

Pennsylvania State University

Sofia Capece (University Park)
Jennifer Davis (University Park)
Grace Gervino (University Park)
Kristen Lichtner (University Park)
Maura Lifsted (University Park)
Elise McGrath (University Park)
Jenny Trinh (Abington)

Philadelphia University

Alexis Godwin
Melissa Landis

Rider University

Taylor Neals
Alyssa Salvitty
Clare Weikel

St. Edward's University

Jessica Case

Saint Joseph's University

Nicole Butch
Caitlin Klarich
Lindsay LeVan

Saint Mary's College

Marne Brown

Savannah College of Art and Design

Samantha Koenig

Stevens Institute of Technology

Miranda Candidi

Syracuse University

Marne Brown

Temple University

Nina Adams
Emily Beck
Samantha Churchill
Nicole Deegan
Bridget Heffernan
Jessica Lachowicz

Rebecca Masgai

Meghan Rodgers

Lauryn Stride

Angela Sylvester

Amber Theurer

The Catholic University of America

Rebecca Rhoades

The George Washington University

Elizabeth Irons

The University of Maine

Emily Lund

The University of Scranton

Elizabeth Carpenter
The University of Tampa
Megan Frain

University of Connecticut

Ruowen Qian

University of Delaware

Katelynn Emore
Jessica Loughery

University of Pennsylvania

Melissa Aykit
Lin Jia Chen

University of Pittsburgh

Megan Nescio
Breanna Puleo

University of San Diego

Delancey Showers

University of South Carolina

Emily Yost

VA Polytechnic Institute and State University

Jessica Puodziunas

Villanova University

Katelynn O'Donnell

West Chester University

Nicole Diviny
Kailey Ferguson
Emily Hatala
Abigail Jastrzembski
Madison Joynes
Skyla vanTrikt

Western Carolina University

Paige Robinson

West Virginia University

Samantha Gilbert

Widener University

Lindsay Jones

Dear Nancy Ann,

I've made it through Senior Year! Graduation is right around the corner, and while I cannot wait to see what the future holds, I am also a little scared. Nazareth has been my home for the past four years, and I'm starting to have some doubts about going on to college. I will be leaving some of my friends behind as we go off to different schools, and I'm afraid of falling out of touch with them. I'm nervous about college too. It's a new environment with new people, and I'm as nervous about experiencing it as I am excited about it. Do you have any advice about navigating the tricky transition period between high school and college?

Gratefully,
Anxious Alum

Dear Anxious Alum,

Congrats on graduating! It's perfectly normal to be a little nervous about graduating and moving on. It shows how much you care about Nazareth and about having a great college experience. Do you remember coming to Nazareth for the first time? There was a transition period for you then, too. Remember that time in your life, and you can draw from those experiences as you begin yet another chapter in your life!

Don't be afraid of losing touch with your friends no matter how far away they may seem to be. In this day and age, it is impossible to lose contact if you care enough. Social media like Facebook and Instagram makes it so easy to check up on them, and there is always texting, calling, facetimeing, and snapchatting! Plan some time to meet up with your Naz friends during the year and especially during breaks when everyone is home. Keep some time for your family as well, especially if you're living on campus during the year. You may not realize it now, but you will miss them just as much as they will miss you!

College will be a new environment, and there will be new people. However, just remember that everyone is in the exact same boat. All of the other freshmen at your college are just as nervous and excited as you are! So, be sure to throw yourself into everything you do wholeheartedly, and don't forget to try new things. Join some clubs that seem like fun; you'll meet many new people that way. Make friends with the people in your dorm/floor/suite, because these are the people who will be there for you at the end of the day.

Lastly, remember to just be yourself. Stay in touch with your friends and don't forget about them. Instead, expand your friend group in college. Best of luck to you in all your future endeavors! Come back and visit your "dear NA" sometimes, because Nazareth will miss you, and you're always welcome back (once a panda, always a panda).

With All My Love and Best Wishes,
Nancy Ann

---

Congratulations to the Class of 2017!

---

The Nazareth
A Publication of Nazareth Academy High School
4001 Grant Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19114 - 2999

Editors: Ellen Annas, '18, and Sylvanne Braganza, '18

Moderator: Mr. Ian MacGregor

